LADIES' NIGHT AT Y. M. C. A. IS SUCCESS; WILL BE REPEATED

Hundreds Received by Staff of Association—Musical Program Exceptional

It was a genuine success. Fully six hundred people—men, women and children—attended Ladies' Night at the Y. M. C. A. last evening in celebration of the first anniversary of the dedication of the association's new home at the corner of Hotel and Ala-keha streets. The handsome building was thrown open to the visitors, giving them the chance to inspect the building, examine the gymnasium and other features, and enjoy a social evening together. The new secretaries who have lately arrived in the city to take charge of the different branches of the association's work were introduced by General Secretary Paul Super, and assisted the members of the association who were present in showing their friends the building. To sum it all up, it was a pronounced success, and there was not a dull moment from the time the evening's entertainment began until the last guest had made his departure.

The principal feature of the evening was the splendid musical program given in the large games hall at 8 o'clock. This program was arranged for the occasion by Assistant General Secretary Lloyd B. Killam, and he is to be complimented on his selection of those who took part. Comfortable chairs had been arranged in the hall to seat a large number, and there were few vacant seats during the course of the concert. A platform had been erected in the mauka end of the hall and was decorated for the occasion with palms and potted ferns. The various numbers on the program were announced by Secretary Super, as follows:

(a) Still as the Night. . . . . Goetz
(b) The Venetian Boat Song. . . . . Blumenthal
Miss Edith Rosslyn Collins, Mrs. G. H. Tackabury
Piano Solo—The "Battle of Spring. . . . . Finding
Miss Florence Tewksbury
Violin Solo—

(a) Berceuse. . . . . Godard
(b) Perpetuo Mobile. . . . . Bohm

Prof. L. A. de Gracia
Song—Freundliche Vision. . . . . Strauf
George Andrus

INTERMISSION
Whistling Solo. . . . . Dr. S. D. Barnes
Violin Solo—Grand Fantasia. . . . . De Beriot

Prof. L. A. de Gracia
Song—Madrigal. . . . . Lynes

George Andrus
Mandolin Solo, with Guitar Accompaniment—The Tales of Hoffman. . . . . Offenbach

Prof. L. A. de Gracia, Arthur Myhre
Accompanists. Miss Genevieve Swain, Miss Edith Catfield, Miss Florence Tewksbury, O. T. Webster.

During the intermission between the two parts of the program, two short talks were given, the first by F. C. Atherton, treasurer of the association, and the second by A. E. Larimer, secretary of the educational department. In the course of his talk Mr. Atherton said:

"The people of Honolulu have given nearly a quarter of a million dollars toward the grounds and building of the association of this city, and naturally the question arises among them whether or not the young men of the city have frequented the building and used it as they should. This question is easily answered, by the fact that a little over a year ago there were 430 members in the association, while today there are 1124, which shows an increase of over 400. These are all paid members, members who are glad and willing to pay their yearly dues toward the upkeep of the association." Mr. Atherton also spoke of the splendid work that the different departments of the association are doing, mentioning the religious, boys', educational, physical and social departments.

Work for Education.
A. E. Larimer, who followed Mr. Atherton, has been the secretary of the educational department of the association for the past three years. His department, with its many features, including that of the night school, is perhaps the most important one in the association's work. Mr. Larimer spoke briefly of the work of the educational department, but the main point of his talk was that of the night school and the employment bureau. He spoke of the importance of the former to boys who are forced to leave school and go to work, and want some place where they can better fit themselves for the work that they have chosen as their vocation. He related many interesting instances, some comical and some pathetic, of how young fellows had been helped out of some deep holes by the educational department, by securing them positions. Larimer stated that his department has the undivided cooperation of the business men of the city, many of them coming to him for competent young fellows who are willing to work. His talk gave those present a little insight into just what the association is doing for the boys and young men of Hawaii.

After the concert the visitors strolled about the building or listened to the music in the lobby. Anderson's orchestra was not present, but with the assistance of Professor Folsom and one or two others, an impromptu orchestra was gotten up and music couldn't have been better appreciated. Of course, as could readily be expected, there was a mixed quartet at once formed, and they sang, too, and were applauded by the visitors nearly as much as the musicians who were at the Opera House. The bowling alleys were not open on account of repairs which are being made on them, but the billiard room was one of the main centers of attraction, many ladies matching their skill against that of their escorts.

Refreshments were served from a long table in the music room, and "Wiz" should be complimented on the fine quality of his punch. The guests remained until 11 o'clock, and all left with a good word for the association. Mr. Super was congratulated many times on the splendid new building and his excellent staff of secretaries. Ladies' Night has become a regular feature on the program of social events, and all who were there—and no doubt many who were not there—will look forward to the next one.
